Gary – we are forecasting a need for some hotel space in Louisiana (same impact area as Katrina) JUST in case Hurricane Irma decides to scoot to the west instead of just concentrating on Florida. We want to be as prepared as possible with some space locked down for our folks. Irma is 3 days out. Additionally, we are going to have a known need in the Huntsville, TX area where we will be standing up an ICP w/Unified Command with the State and other partners. We just received word of this requirement and would be interested in reaching out to some of your contacts to see what we may be looking at as far as hotel availability goes.

We don't have an anticipated date of delivery for the ICP just yet but we'll be needing to house 100+ personnel when it is operational. Huntsville is about 1 ½ hours North of Houston. Please advise any contacts you may have in both of these areas so we can begin having discussions with them – depending on what happens with Irma, we may also need your assistance to help us lock down some rooms. Thanks in advance.
